Culture

British zoos

There are more than a hundred zoos and wildlife parks in the United Kingdom. The first was London Zoo in Regent's Park. At London Zoo you can see more than 700 species of animal.

British people like animals and they like visiting zoos. Zoos are a very popular place for British families. Zoos are excellent places for children to learn about animals. Children can sometimes feed the animals.

In zoos zookeepers look after the animals. They feed the animals and clean them. Zookeepers have lots of different animals to take care of in the UK. At Chester Zoo there are pink flamingos. At Paignton Zoo there are crocodiles. At Whipsnade Zoo there are lots of Asian elephants. Visitors at Whipsnade Zoo can travel on a train to see these elephants and lots of other animals.

There are also wildlife or safari parks in the UK. In these parks the animals have more space. One of the most popular parks is Longleat Safari Park. This is in the south of England.

FUN FACT

'Zoo' is short for 'zoological garden'. 'Zoo' comes from the Greek word zōion which means 'animal'.
